

Autumn 2016

The MAT Learner: Challenge in the everyday classroom

5th October, 2016, Swansea A one day cross-phase seminar for teachers to help you address the needs of your more able and talented learners and equip you with skills to improve provision for the more able.

English for the More Able with RISING STARS

20th October, 2016, Grand Connaught Rooms, London A one day conference for primary schools addressing more able provision in English in the new national curriculum. Keynote speaker: Anne Fine, second Children's Laureate

New to Able, Gifted & Talented

4th November, 2016, Derby; 21st November, London One day, primary phase seminars for new A,G&T co-ordinators. This course will help you to understand your role, define and identify more able and talented learners, and offer practical strategies and ideas for developing classroom provision.

Spring 2017

Sport and the More Able

12th January, 2017, Madejski Stadium, Reading A one day conference for primary and secondary schools that explores the identification and development of talented young people in sport, and the impact of sport on raising the achievement of all more able students. Opening keynote speaker: Alex Danson, Team GB hockey Rio Olympic gold winner. Closing speaker: Dr Richard Bailey, NACE patron.

The More Able Learner: Challenge in the everyday classroom

1st February, 2017, Queen Mary's College, Basingstoke A one day seminar for secondary and post-16 teachers to help you address the needs of your more able learners and equip you with skills to improve provision for the more able.

The More Able Learner: Challenge in the everyday classroom

2nd March, 2017, Leeds A one day, primary phase seminar for teachers to help you address the needs of your more able learners and equip you with skills to improve provision for the more able.

New to Able, Gifted & Talented

29th March, 2017, London A one day, primary phase seminar for new A,G&T co-ordinators. This course will help you to understand your role, define and identify more able and talented learners, and offer practical strategies and ideas for developing classroom provision.

Summer 2017

The MAT Learner: Challenge in the everyday classroom

17th May, 2017, Chester A one day cross-phase seminar for teachers to help you address the needs of your more able and talented learners and equip you with skills to improve provision for the more able. Facilitated by Sue Mordecai. NACE members: £175; non-members: £300

Engaging and Challenging the Able Foreign Language Learners

6th June and 3rd October, 2017, North Oxfordshire Academy, Banbury A one and a half day workshop programme for secondary schools addressing provision for able learners of modern foreign languages. Led by Beatrice Moreau-Gray. NACE members: £265; non-members: £399

NACE National Conference: Giving Talent Space

21st June, 2017, etc.venues Liverpool Street, London NACE's one day national conference, open to teaching colleagues from all phases. Supporting schools to meet the challenge of most able learners in the context of challenge for all. Bringing together international experts, policy decision makers and school leaders. NACE members: £299 or book before 8th April for £265; non-members: £399

For more details and easy booking, visit www.nace.co.uk.