

Sue Mordecai

This one day seminar will be facilitated by Sue Mordecai, NACE Trustee and highly experienced school improvement professional working with school leaders and governors along with Sian Fielding, School Challenge Adviser at Powys County Council, registered ESTYN Team Inspector and NACE Trustee.

Sian Fielding

NACE Cymru Member:

£175 + VAT

Non Member:

£300 +VAT

With Estyn more closely focused on how schools provide for their More Able & Talented learners, is your school equipped for this responsibility? This cross-phase course will help you address the needs of your MAT learners and equip you with skills to improve provision for them.

Wednesday 5th October, Swansea

This seminar will cover:

- The national context
- Who are our most able and talented?
- How do we identify them?
- What are their needs?
- Practical ideas to engage & challenge in the everyday classroom
- Next steps including how to conduct a school review of MAT learners

Who should attend?

- MAT Co-ordinators
- Teachers
- Headteachers
- Leading teachers
- Advisers & advisory teachers

Quotes from previous seminars

Very engaging speaker with real experience of what it is to be a teacher.

Ideas for displays, question walls, policy for praise.

Practical teaching strategies & strategic plan for whole school.

Clear strategies & framework for evaluation.

Very informative with lots of good ideas, gave me an understanding of what to do next.

Aspiration, Ability & Achievement

BOOK NOW to avoid disappointment

WWW.NACE.CO.UK Email: naceevents@nace.co.uk